

A Year Long Sequence for Kindergarten Writer's Workshop.

1. September—Begin!

Page 17: What to say on the very first day and where to go from there.

2. October—About Me, About Mine

Page 25: Starting to write little books about ourselves and people we love.

3. November, December—Kind-re-vision

Page 32: Seeing revision from a five-year-old perspective.

4. January—All About Posters

Page 36: A step toward non-fiction in a new format.

5. February—Question and Answer Books

Page 42: More non-fiction, another new format.

6. March—Poetry

Page 47: Adding up to poetry with details, similes and metaphors.

7. April—Borrowing From Books

Page 57: What we learn from our favorite authors.

8. May, June—All Made Up: Fiction

Page 64: Story elements help us keep track of storyline.

9. A Year of Growth—Focus on two students.

Page 75: Where they started and where they ended up.

10. At a Glance—Posters for planning.

Page 85: Appendix A: Unit 1-8 Posters for keeping daily lessons on track.

11. Graphic Organizers—Everything you need.

Page 94: Appendix B: All the Organizers for each unit.

12. Ideas the Kids Taught Me and the Bibliography

Page 125: Two more good ideas and some things to order online.